GLEAN WITH PROJECT LEKET

Leket Israel-The National Food Bank invites you to volunteer, even for an hour, in its harvesting initiative for the benefit of Israel's needy. Leket - it's biblical - Ruth did it in the fields of Boaz and you can do it too! Working in cooperation with farmers in the Jezreel Valley, the project cultivates vegetables and enlists thousands of volunteers annually to hand pick the crops for the benefit of the country's poor. Picking fruits and vegetables for distribution to Israel's needy is a unique and meaningful experience. Project Leket is an outdoor hands-on activity, offered year-round and an excellent option for families or large groups.

LEKET ISRAEL-THE NATIONAL FOOD BANK

Leket Israel is a one-of-a-kind organization: all activities are dedicated to rescuing surplus food and distributing it to those in need. In order to carry out its mission, Leket Israel rescues food from a variety of sources: farms, caterers, and industrial producers. A large portion of the activities are carried out by active and dedicated volunteers.

Leket Israel provides food and nutritional support to 250,000 needy people weekly with an annual distribution of 60 million pounds of produce and perishable goods.

The Holy Land is a special, sacred place. Every year Christians from around the world travel to Israel to experience for themselves the land where Jesus was born.

The fields in Israel also became home to Ruth and her mother-in-law. Poor and with no family to care for them, they were rescued by Boaz — an ancestor of Jesus — when he followed the command from Leviticus to leave part of the harvest for the poor to glean. (Lev 19:9) You can relive this biblical story by doing what Ruth did!

The Hebrew word for glean is "leket." Like Ruth and Naomi, many in Israel today suffer from poverty and hunger. Leket Israel, The National Food Bank, continues to follow that ancient call by providing nutritious meals to those in need.

Staff and volunteers at Leket Israel collect surplus food from fields, hotels and caterers and distributes it throughout the country to all in need. Christian friends of Leket Israel support this work by receiving volunteers as part of their tour to Israel.

On your next tour to Israel, why not join the more than 50,000 volunteers who have answered Jesus' call to serve. Help those in need by picking fresh fruit and vegetables from the fields or preparing produce for delivery at the Leket Israel Logistics Center.

There is only one experience in Israel that will let you participate in a Biblical story!

Perhaps Jesus' most memorable miracle was the feeding of the multitude. On your next trip to Israel you can relive that miracle by gleaning for a multitude!
